SUMMARY

Product manager in HR tech, building SaaS products used by hiring teams across the Gulf, Asia and North America. I take ideas from customer problem to launch: gathering requirements, building prototypes, working closely with engineering, testing before release and tracking adoption after. Before product, I led recruitment teams, so I understand the end user's daily work first-hand.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Associate Product Manager, Whitecarrot.ai Sep 2025 – Present

- Own the product roadmap and prioritise features by customer need, business impact and retention, explaining trade-offs to stakeholders.
- Turn feedback from customers, sales and support into clear PRDs, user stories and acceptance criteria.
- Build clickable prototypes in Lovable so engineering can see exactly how a feature should work before development begins.
- Run agile sprints with engineering, from sprint planning and backlog grooming through to release.
- Shape AI-powered features from use case to launch, testing their output for accuracy before release.
- Maintain the help centre our AI assistant answers from, so customers get accurate, up-to-date answers.
- Use Claude and ChatGPT daily for research, drafting specs and analysing customer feedback.
- Test every release before it goes live, and reproduce customer issues step by step for engineering.
- Plan launches with release notes, help articles and training for internal teams and customers.
- Define success metrics for each feature, and track adoption after launch to decide what to improve next.
- Work with integration partners so customer data moves smoothly between our product and theirs.
- Onboard and train new customers so they get value from the product quickly.

Talent Acquisition Specialist, Fresh Prints Dec 2024 – Aug 2025

- Managed end-to-end hiring across multiple international markets, using an ATS every day.
- Introduced AI and automation tools to cut manual screening and scheduling work.

Talent Acquisition Specialist, Ditto Insurance Aug 2023 – Oct 2024

- Led a team of recruiters and built the hiring process from scratch: workflows, KPIs and training.
- Shared weekly hiring dashboards with leadership to guide hiring decisions.
